staying awake to chase a dream tasting the air you're breathing in i know i won't forget a thing promise to hold you close and pray watching the fantasies decay nothing will ever stay the same all of the love we threw away all of the hopes we cherished fade making the same mistakes again

and i'll feel my world crumbling i'll feel my life crumbling i'll feel my soul crumbling away and falling away falling away with you all of the love we've left behind watching the flash backs intertwine memories i will never find
