Alone Tonight - Genesis

```
D          F#m           Bm
There's nothing here I can understand
D     F#m           Bm
And no-one cares I'm a lonely man
     G                    Bm7
I touch your face and I don't know why
   G                         Bm7         E   Em   G
I call your name but you're going by now I'm alone again
D   F#m            Bm
I have no name for each and every day
D          F#m          Bm
Until the year is done, and fades away
   G              Bm7
There's a time in between the two
     G                    Bm7          Asus
The old year's gone but it's not the new and I,  I,  I
          A        D    Em7          D          Em7
I know that I'll be all alone again, alone again tonight
    D     Em7        D          Em7
Oh I'm alone again, alone again tonight
    D     Em7           F#m          Bm          Em7
Oh I'm alone again and it seems to me that every time I try to change
 Bm         Asus         E              Asus
Say that you'll say that you'll help me reach the other side
F         Eb            F          Eb           F
And when the morning comes the sun is out and warms me up again
       Eb          F          Eb          F      Eb
What a funny world it is for me and all I'll ever be
Em                                   Bm         A        Em
It's not enough, it's not enough, this feeling I'm feeling inside
     Asus                    A
Oh I know it,  I know tonight that I'll be
D     Em7          D          Em7
On my own tonight, alone again tonight
    D     Em7        D          Em7
Oh I'm alone again, alone again tonight
    D     Em7           F#m          Bm          Em7
Oh I'm alone again and it seems to me that every time I try to change
 Bm         Asus        Em7             A
Say that you'll say that you'll help me reach the other side
Asus                         A
Help me please cos I know I'm gonna be
D     Em7          D          Em7
On my own again, alone again tonight
    D     Em7          D          Em7
Oh I'm alone again, alone again tonight
 D   Em7         D          Em7             D    Em7    D
I'm all alone, alone again tonight, tonight, tonight
